Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-112,116-117,136-152 are rejected under 35 USC 103(a) as unpatentable over State Street(1997) in view of Poindexter(US Pat. No: 6,338,074) and further in view of Notani(US Pat. No:6,442,528).
6. As per claims 1-112,116-117,136-152 State Street teaches a computerized method for workflow managment for a trustee handling a plurality of securitization transactions(pages 3-9).Poindexter teaches a display for active deals(Fig 8)(col 11 lines 21-50) as well as loan processing and tax issues(Fig 3).Notani teaches multi-enterprise colaboration(Abstract)(Figs 1-17)(col 3 line 39-col 4 line 10) as well as global workflow(Fig 2).It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to combine State Street in view of Poindexter and further in view of Natani to teach the disclosure. The motivation to combine State Street in view of Poindexter is to teach a method of workflow management for transactions over multiple communication links as enunciated by Poindexter(col 2 lines 8-11). It would also have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to combine State Street in view of Poindexter and further in view of Notani to teach applicant's disclosure. The motivation to combine is to teach a method of workflow management for financial transactions over multiple communication links for enterprise collaboration as enunciated by Natani(col 2 lines 21-29).
